

ICMEE eWorkshop

Understanding Bilingual Learners in the U.S. Schools

Essential Question: How can school psychologists contribute to improving educational and mental health contexts of bilingual learners through engaging in legally and ethically sound practices?

Guiding Questions:

- Unit 1: Who are bilingual learners nationwide and in your own contexts?
- Unit 2: How are services provided to bilingual learners that aid in English and native language development?
- Unit 3: What are the legal and ethical considerations for school psychologists working with bilingual learners?
- Unit 4: How do biases, stereotypes, and our own experiences influence our practice as school psychologists?
- Unit 5: What is disproportionality and how may it impact special education services and disciplinary practices?
- Unit 6: Answer the Essential Question

What is an eWorkshop?

Our eWorkshops are innovative online multi-media resources available free of cost to professional learning communities of educators who wish to collaboratively inquire into and improve their practice with bi/multilingual learners.

eWorkshops are inquiry oriented and are guided by an essential question and a guiding question for each of the six units in an eWorkshop. Each unit follows the same three-part learning cycle that we call Explore, Make-It-Work, and Share. In Explore participants spend 30-60 minutes exploring new ideas, content, concepts or perspectives. In Make-It-Work, participants are offered a minimum of two designed and completely supported options of how to make the new learning from Explore work in an actual classroom context. Make-It-Work takes around one hour of a participant’s time and always has a “You Make-It-Work” option, which gives participants the flexibility to design their own approach or tweak one of the options we offered. Finally, participants Share their learning either in our online space (a threaded discussion) or Face-toFace. Share usually takes 30-60 minutes of a participant’s time meaning that completing the three-part learning cycle of each unit takes about three hours. eWorkshop participants who complete all six units can receive a certificate of completion as well as use their work towards a course that will earn them one graduate level credit at the University of Nebraska Lincoln. To learn more about our eWorkshops, please visit: <https://cehs.unl.edu/icmee/>